DRAW PARTY LINES.

The Carson Appeal says there are a few Republicans still in the Mint. They should be given the grand bounce at once—Independent.

While the Republicans in the Mint are very worthy men in many respects, they should not expect office. The party they represent is turned down and they should be willing to accept the decree of the public and retire gracefully. If they are not willing to do so, they should be as the Independent says, "bounced at once."

The APPEAL has always believed in the old Jacksonian theory that the spoils belong to the victors. It is the only principle on which politics can be run successfully. So long as good Silver men who were discharged from the Mint for voting the Silver ticket cannot get back because stronger Republicans have their place, so long will the APPEAL raise its protest. It is an insult to the rank and file to allow such a state of affairs and we call on the Silver press of the State to unite in a protest against this wrong until it is righted. The State Central Committee should call Senator Stewart's attention to it at once.

AGAINST WORDEN.

The Oakland Times prints an interview with Alfred Westen, the new witness in the Yolo train-wrecking case discovered by Detective Stillwell, whose statement was published in the Bee on Tuesday.

He says: "On the day of that frightful wreck I left Sacramento, walking toward Davisville, where I met several men, including Worden, at work upon the track on the bridge. With curses they ordered me back, and I lost no time in going."

"After witnessing the accident I ran into the tules and in all of that heat, ran as for my life, and saw two others, whom I did not know, doing the same. I went off and went to work around Woodland and was there all through the trial, but was never suspected for a moment." At the conclusion of the interview, Westen declared Worden would hang.

During the entire trial Worden acted like a guilty man, trying to bluff his way out of a bad scrape. His back record was shown to be bad, he being an ex-convict, and this new evidence will probably hang him.

VOTE IT DOWN.

Every reader of the APPEAL should read the article on the Constitutional amendment to abolish the Supreme Court, which appears elsewhere. It is a measure full of danger to the rights and liberties of the people of this State. The question of economy should not influence the people of Nevada to place themselves and their liberties in the hands of a designing Chief Justice. Better by far that they tax themselves and retain the purity and integrity of the court of last resort than by adopting this amendment rid themselves of taxation and place their property and liberty in the hands of a corrupt Judge.

The only safe course for the people is to go to the polls on election day and vote down the amendment to Sec. 2 Article VI of the State Constitution. It is the only safe course for the people to take.

Only about a month to election.

A Word From Judge Webster.

The Republican papers who thought so highly of Judge Webster as a Populist are now covering him with abuse because he has come into the Silver field. In a card in the Journal the Judge makes some very pertinent remarks from which we take the following extract:

"The writer, with others, in good faith, formed a People's party for the State of Nevada and nominated a ticket that will be given a place on the State ballot."

The primary object of forming a Populist party was to place the State in line with the National People's party for National purposes two years hence. It was not the intention of a large majority of those who signed the call for a State organization that it should be used in opposition to the Silver party. The intention and desire of these men was that the People's party should continue in harmony with the Silver party, for all the purposes of a campaign. In a very short time after a State People's party ticket was placed before the people, the more radical reformers thought it better that a positive campaign be made— which positive campaign by the People's party from the beginning has been directed against its only ally—the Silver party. Pronounced Populists made no objection to the attack made on the Silver party, believing no material harm would come to reform or silver from the attack made, but when it became noticeable that the People's party was being sold bugs and would likely be devoured by these rapacious gentry, the only course open for our honest Populists was a counter attack by calling to their aid the Silver party."

Senator Jones has excellent business reasons for not taking up with the false pretense that the Republican party is the friend of silver. He owns silver mines, and he actually desires the free coinage of silver. It is a business proposition with him, and, therefore, the make-believe of the Republicans does not go down. He is not working the silver sentiment for political effect, but is actually trying to bring about the free coinage of silver. He knows that nothing can be accomplished in that direction by staying in the Republican party, and that is why he has left it. There is all the difference in the world between a man who actually mines silver and the politician who mines the silver sentiment in the hope of getting office."

A man in San Francisco who wanted to be elected Supervisor paid a man named Dunn $1000 to have him speak to Burnes and secure the nomination. The man froze to the money, but another fellow who probably gave $2000, got the nomination. There is now a coolness between them. It turned out that the local bosses sold more nominations than there were places on the ticket."

Mr. Mills, the handsome young nominee of the 400, is seriously thinking of purchasing a blue jeans suit and going out among the yeomanry to catch votes for the State Senatorship.
